

Toxy - Recumbents: Great new website

It is a complete recumbent world, which the German Toxy brand virtually presents at their new English website.

With a very nice and clear site design and structure they show their latest Toxy-models CL, LT, TT and the updated ZR with all the information and their unique range of options around recumbent, comfort & touring.

Even health aspects as well as personal riding comfort were discussed. With special Toxy baby seats or their full suspension KidCar trailers, you will have fantastic rides even with your whole family.

Detailed pictures of all models, studio & in-motion, will keep you dreaming about your next tour on your own personal Toxy recumbent. Just click the gallery...

Even in the Toxy onlineshop, any options and components are illustrated by high-res pictures. So just compose your own personal recumbent due to your individual needs and demands.

Toxy customers now have an own special site, where they are portrayed with their Toxy, their travelling reports and experiences. Some have a link to their private homepage. - The best way to expect what you could experience riding a Toxy.

So under „fascination“, you will find interesting recumbent routes through the Canadian Rockies, as well as recumbent pictures from France, Australia or Galizia and a report of the “Paris-Brest-Paris” bicycle marathon – over 1200 kilometres on Toxy.

Toxy founder Arved Klütz says: „Here, our customers present the whole wide range of possibilities, which we support with our full suspension Toxy models. And this is exactly what we develop and manufacture every single Toxy recumbent for and what makes us very happy. Our customers and their stories they fascinate us just the same as our products. With this site we want to say thank you to all of our enthusiastic Toxy riders!
